On Being A Non-Sorority Girl

By Anna Stiles Robinson, '91

When Dorothy Canfield made Sylvia of the "Bent Twig" a non-sorority girl, she did not tell how Sylvia felt. She simply said that every non-sorority girl would know, and that no one else could possibly know.

I know how a non-sorority girl feels, and I agree with Miss Canfield that nothing should be said on the subject. All I am going to do is to give the facts of my non-sorority life in a small denominational college.

I went up to D_____ when I was eighteen. D_____ had been my mother's college in the days before sororities, and I was prepared to like everything from my room to Freshman math.

At first everything was wonderful, just as mother had said it would be, -and then we began to hear about sororities. I was not in the least impressed at first. I remember sitting on the floor at a feed explaining firmly to a girl hunched up on the bed that sororities couldn't matter much - you weren't supposed to talk about them - you couldn't join until you were a Sophomore - you wouldn't even know they were there if some one wouldn't insist on pointing out their pins and their little white houses. Anyway, I didn't expect to be a sorority girl, so I wasn't going to spend any time thinking about them.

But I found after while that you couldn't help thinking about sororities. No one discussed them in public, according to the trustees' orders, but everyone discussed them pretty continually in private. It seemed that the girls in the school were not of equal rank. The "big" girls were the sorority girls, and there was nothing in school as important as getting in with them.

However, our little bunch did not make advances to the sorority girls. We had never even heard up to that time of the art that is called at D_____ "helping yourself." So we retired to the side-lines and watched the likelier Freshmen. There was a great deal to watch, once one gave in to seeing it - what Freshman was walking up the hill with what sorority girl whether it was an accident or a regular occurrence, and whether the sorority girls seemed to be really liking her, or just letting her stay around.

The rest of the crowd went to other colleges at the end of our Freshman year, but I came back. My best friend my second year was a Freshman, Mickey T_____. Mickey had not known there were sororities at D_____ when she came, but her father is a Kentucky politician, so she had an excellent (sic) background for adjusting herself.

Along in November Mickey said one night, "Ray, I want to be a big girl in this school and a sorority girl. And I am going to do everything I can to help myself be one."

The first thing Mickey did was to drop most of the friends she had already made. She liked them, but she could not afford to have the sorority girls see her with very many unimportant people. You will probably think from this that Mickey was a cold-hearted wretch. She was not. She was charming. She simply knew how to get along at D_____.

Alpha Phi was the first sorority Mickey approached. She invented good excuses for visiting the two Alphas on our corridor, started to class as they were going, and flattered them almost too openly. I thought. But she made no progress with them. She turned then to the Delta Psis, with immediate success. But the D.P.'s were the least exclusive of the sororities, and Mickey had to admit after thinking it over that the least exclusive of anything could never satisfy her very long. In the end, she turned her whole heart to small and exclusive Theta Chi.

A D_____ Freshman is supposed to wait for the friendship of a sorority girl as modestly as a maid waits for the friendship of a man, and when she turns things her way a bit she does it as the maid does: discreetly. Mickey found her first good reason for approaching the Thetas just before a big Y.W. party. Being on the decoration committee she went out to borrow pillows, and came back an hour later solemnly elated. She had gone straight to a prominent Theta, who had been lovely to her and taken her only to other Thetas to borrow pillows. "I believe it's a good sign," Mickey said slowly as she set forth the last detail.

It was a good sign. In a day or two a Theta from another hall dropped in to borrow a notebook, and Mickey rejoiced that the Thetas were beginning to notice where she lived. A week or two later a Theta of exquisite taste offered to go over to the neighboring city with Mickey and help her select a hat, and another Theta borrowed the hat and wore it before Mickey had worn it herself. Mickey was a bit rueful, but after all she said, it was a good sign when they treated her so much like one of themselves. As spring came on every day had its sign, and in June Mickey was one of the eight to receive a bid to Theta Chi.

At the same time I was transferred to a college without sororities "to reign a little self-confidence and self-respect," my mother said.

Denison Traditions

A progressive student-one who likes to see changes for the better-may think that some college customs or traditions are obsolete. From the one hundred eleven years of its existence Denison University has come to realize the importance and enjoyment of certain traditions begun years ago. Students today are not unlike students of yesteryear; they still cherish those meaningful things.

Everyone stands with head uncovered while "To Denison" is sung.
Denison students greet one another on campus.

Before an important gridiron classic, bonfire "pep" meetings are held-usually at Beaver Field, located on South Main, just over the railroad tracks.

Homecoming Day is held on a Saturday in October; this weekend is completely turned over to alumni.

Dad's Day, another annual event, is held on a Saturday in November. A football game is the feature of the day.

Mother's Day is celebrated on a weekend in May. Innumerable features are always planned including a track meet, Glee Club concert, May Day Festivities and crowning of the May Queen, sorority and fraternity receptions and the Inter-Fraternity Sing Contest.

Denison students do not smoke on campus. Certain places, however, on the campus are reserved for smoking; you can find them without much trouble.

Students do not have to wait more than five minutes for a tardy professor; fifteen minutes for an examination.

Serenades are always held after the women have returned to their rooms. They are observed on weekends only. Sweetheart serenades are held in the senior year of either or both of the two "candidates." The one for whom it is given holds a candle in her window and the other women in the dormitory show their appreciation by maintaining silence with all lights extinguished.

Four regular formals are held by each of the sororities and fraternities: Fall, Christmas, Spring and Commencement. In October the men hold their fall formals and the women retaliate in November with theirs; December brings the Christmas dances and after vacation the women hold theirs; Spring dances come along in March with women's in May. Fraternities, not sororities hold Commencement dances.

To prevent overcrowding of the college calendar all fraternities have their parties on the same evening and sororities likewise.

During the year various types of dances are held by fraternities or sororities together or independently. The Junior Prom after spring vacation is the biggest all-school dance of the year.

Informal parties and special functions such as the Kappa Sig Prison dance or the Beta Military Ball or the Sigs' Bloody Bucket or the Phi Delts' Hard Times Party are scattered over the year; school sponsored functions include the "D" Association affairs and Gold Diggers' dance.

For Whom The Bell Tolls

Say you didn't hear Hold That Tiger this morning? Say you lay awake in your happy little pad wondering what happened? Say you could have murdered that bell ringer who woke you out of a sound sleep with 300 bongs and never did ring out with Hold That Tiger?

Well, Friend . . .

Sometime between 9:30 p.m. Sunday and 6:00 a.m. Monday, someone (PseudoWingless Angels?) picked the lock of the Swasey Chapel bell tower and stole college and personal property-namely, the straps and pins which hold the framework of the bells proper to the bell-playing manual (college property) and nearly a thousand songs especially transposed by generations of bell ringers.

But why the one bell clanging over and over again, you ask? Well, one lone rope was thoughtfully left hanging so that the bell ringer could play the solitary toll bell and culprits wouldn't sleep through D-Day when it came.

You may or may not know that this same prank was pulled last November in honor of Christian Emphasis Days. At great expense to the student body, (the money came from the activity fee you complain about paying each year), the straps and pins were replaced the same day, and again the bells rang. Weeks later, the original straps and music were returned via a Wingless-Angel-marked bundle deposited by night in Sawyer Hall.

Vandals, have you no ideaphoria? Can you think of no other way to relieve your juvenile frustrations than by pulling Old Hat tricks?

LET IT HEREBY BE KNOWN:

that Bell Ringers Union #555 is now on strike! No bells will sound until the missing links and all bell music are returned intact.

Signed,
THE BELL MISTRESSES OF SWASEY CHAPEL

Mixed Quads Will Be Reality In September

Denison's residential quadrangles will have a new look this fall, when the integrated quadrangle proposal developed by the subcommittee on residential programs of the Student Faculty Council and approved by the Board of Trustees at the April meeting goes into effect.

In essence the new plan (1) creates two mixed-living quadrangles-one on the east side of campus and one on the west-and (2) provides for integration of the four academic classes within the residence hall units.

Men students now will reside in Crawford and Deeds halls on the East Quadrangle and in Smith and Curtis East halls on the West Quadrangle, and women will reside in all other living units.

This means that there will be residence halls for men and residence halls for women at both ends of the campus, and that the two dining halls-Curtis and Huffman-will serve both men and women.

The student-faculty committee on residential programs, which has been evaluating the residential program at Denison for more than a year, stated that it believed the program developed was "a well-reasoned and equitable program with inherent educational significance."

To allow proper consideration of the merits and short-comings of each proposal in the plan, the committee presented it to the campus community for more than one and one-half months of discussion and debate.

The major rationale presented by the committee for the plan stated, "It is our belief that, the removal of the artificial barriers of distance, time, dining facilities, and social constraints through the integration of the residential quads and the removal of exclusively freshman dormitories will present the opportunity to begin working for the goals of a residential college and the associated community ideal.

"We believe that it would (1) break down the dichotomy between the academic and social life of the student; (2) break down the distinctions based upon academic class; (3) increase the interaction between freshmen and upperclass men and women; and (4) create the possibility of a better educational experience for freshmen and a more realistic adjustment to the university experience."

The adopted program also provides detailed information on the philosophy and working principles for integrated quadrangles, specific living unit arrangements, a system of governance, and supportive rationale for the change.

In addition, the Student-Faculty Council is developing a plan for students sharing common educational interests to live in groups in residence halls. These might include, for example, groups with common educational interests in language, concern for ecology, arts, science, and black studies.

Another change adopted by the Student-Faculty Council provides for off-campus living for upperclass women, as well as men. A total of 26 women plan to utilize this option this fall.

The Gamma Iota chapter of Lambda Chi Alpha became Denison's fourth fraternity in 1919. Since that time, the house has gone through many transformations in structure, both inside and out. The Senior class alone has seen the house increase from 18 actives to its current size of 58 actives and the enthusiasm of our pledge class, the second largest on the row, insures our continued growth and activity. Highlights of the past year have included renovating our bar room, a great pledge class, and a military version of our most recent tradition, the sorority kidnap for charity. A diverse mix of interests within the house has resulted in Lambda Chi's participation in campus government; on the I.M. field; the Dean's List; The Hilltoppers' album; varsity sports; the Ace Morgan stage; D.C.A., WDUB, and many other areas of Denison life.

This Fall the Hilltoppers' audition week witnessed stiffer competition than the year before. Out of a crowd of 16, only 2 men withstood the arduous challenge of surviving tryouts. Bringing the group's number to ten were (freshman) Todd Truex and (sophomore) Jon Vance.

Along with recording their first record album (in November), the Hilltoppers still managed to do some concerts this Fall. Highlights included a sing for supper at the Freshmen Picnic, and East and West Quad Parents' Weekend, stops at the Camps Chi (Delta and Sigma) for Homecoming and a snap-crackle-pop of a time at the Pre-Fifties Rally in Curtis Dining Hall. Other concerts included singing for the Board of Trustees at Monomoy Place, and additional downtown stops included our semesterly concert at the Sinnett House and a quick Homecoming hello for Alumni Presidents at the Granville Inn.

The semester drew to a close with the group roasting over an open Sorority Bonfire and then weeks later, chestnuts roasted at Swasey Chapel for the annual Christmas Concert featuring the Hilltoppers, the sororities and the debut of a new group on campus - "The Flip Side". All in all it was a great night which saw all proceeds go to the Leads Organization of Newark.

A fond so-long to our compañero David Warner was said as he left to be scholarly in Madrid, Spain for the second semester. Adios y Buenos Suerte Señor!

The second semester's highlights included the Bandersnatch before shoving off for the East coast tour of Alumni Reunions. The following towns were hit: Pittsburgh, Washington, D.C., Baltimore, Philadelphia, New York City, Connecticut, Boston, Rochester, and Cleveland. A great time was enjoyed by all.

The year culminated with several concerts over Spring Parents' Weekend, and later on in the semester the group made appearances for the Touch-down Club and the Men's Glee Club Alums down at Burke Hall.

This was a great year for us and we hope next year will be even better! Thank you, Denison, and this year we would like to give special thanks to Jon Wells, Tom Martin, and Russell T. Bundy for their unyielding loyalty and commitment to Denison and the Hilltoppers.

In 1966, the Hunsberger Memorial Investment Club was established by the family of Harry A. Hunsberger, Jr., an economics major in the class of '66. The club has just completed one of its most active and enthusiastic years ever. Through active student management of the club's stock portfolio, its net worth has risen from $8500 to $15,000 in the last 12 months.

The Hunsberger Club has made a strong effort to equip students with the basic knowledge and tools of the investment world. Recent lecture topics have been stocks, bonds, money market funds, margin accounts, mutual funds, and many others. A recent guest speaker came out from E.F. Hutton in New York City to speak on "Young Investors and the Option Market."

When looking at the 1981 football team you can view them in two ways: 1) as a mediocre team or 2) as a team that was a lot better than the record showed. I would be the first to defend the second choice. This year's team had a lot of talent with an explosive offense and a young defense that matured each game. Unfortunately the season came down to a do or die revenge in the seventh game of the season at Wittenburg. That really was the key to a good season or a bad one. The 1981 team had a lot of pride even though the season wasn't a great one. The seniors were responsible for the pride that helped change the program from four years ago. The underclassmen also played a key role in a somewhat still young team. I personally feel the season was a disappointing way to go out but that I have gained a lot of experience about life through playing football at Denison-Brad Speck, co-capt.

With one minute to go in the season's 15th game against O.W.U., the Big Red Soccer Team looked at a possible Ohio Conference Championship. The Wesleyan game-winner put an end to that dream though, and along with it went any chances for post-season play. The Big Red's 8-6-2 record should not be judged harshly as only a single defeat was by more than one goal. Scott Aiken emerged as the team's top goal scorer, finishing with 13. Co-Captains Chris Petti and Peter Fish, along with Aiken and Doug Graham, were given All-OAC and All-Ohio honors, while Fish was voted All-Mideast. The young booters look to next season as only four seniors graduate. Brad Jones looks to a professional soccer career, Mark Pagano will coach at Cedarville, and Fish and Petti hope to avoid Ebaugh's. Here's to a Homecoming victory (especially for the Alumni). Chris Petti Rebuilding, that's the best way to summarize the 1980 Big Red Cross Country team. With a first year coach and only two returning lettermen, the team's won-lost record was, at best, unimpressive. What this record doesn't speak of is the effort Coach Phil Torrens and the team gave or the resulting individual improvements. In this regard the season was a success. To many this is what cross country is all about. Harry Wise.

In 1981, the Denison Track Team began a long overdue revitalization and rebuilding process. The probability of an outdoor track and increased recruiting efforts by Head Coach Bob Shannon and Assistant Phil Torrens, led to an excellent crop of freshmen runners to fill the Big Red stables. The team, consisting of 9 upperclassmen and 20 freshmen, completed an undefeated indoor season on the strong leadership of 6 returning letter-winners and added depth of the freshmen. Strong indoor performances were provided by freshmen Tim Gerbus in the hurdles, Kirk Boyd in the distance events, John Hosterman in the relays, and Dana Helfrich and Jim Carroll in the middle distance events. Several upperclassmen, including Todd Biegler in the sprints and long jump, Gray Taylor, John Kundtz and Jim Reid in the pole vault, Phil McBride in the distance events, Greg Nolon in the sprints, Charles Frazier in the middle distance events, and Larry Moore in the jumping events have also turned in outstanding performances during the indoor season. Following a 6th place finish in the indoor conference meet, The Big Red is beginning preparation for the outdoor season. A much needed two week break and a trip to Florida steered the runners towards even more improvement during the spring months. Todd Biegler

This year's tennis team started out by looking for its third consecutive Ohio Conference title, which it won. Our strength came from the six returning lettermen: Steve Fauntleroy, Flip Goodspeed, Todd Lemke, Whitney Snyder, Andy Timmerman, and Gordon Treco. The team competed in Florida over spring break with matches in Virginia and Georgia along the way. A strong showing in these early matches could lead to a team bid for the NCAA nationals. Todd Lemke.

Golf

1981 looks like another banner year for the Big Red golf team. After finishing 10th in the NCAA Division III National Golf Tournament in Des Moines, Iowa last year, Denison seems destined for another fine season which will allow them to remain among the elite of Division III golf. This year's squad is led by two-time Honorable Mention All-American senior captain Jeff Koozer, a three year letterman, and junior one year letterman Fred Heath, also a member of last year's 10th ranked squad. Despite losing four seniors to graduation last year, Denison bolsters their depth which will enable them to stay atop college golf's finest in years to come. Senior two year letterman Jeff Johnson will help supply leadership to a host of upcoming underclassmen which include: Juniors, Pete Bridston-a two year letterman, Kevin Kresse-a one year letterman, Jim Goodspeed, Sophomore Dana Pike, and Freshmen, Richard Kirsch, Keith Gordon, and Marcus Stamp. Coach Mike Ehrenfried will lead this year's team to major invitationals at Marietta, Wooster, Kenyon, Denison, Bowling Green, Wittenberg, Ohio Wesleyan, the OAC Championships at Ohio State Scarlet, with a team goal set to repeat as participants in the NCAA Division III Nationals which will be held in Pinehurst, N.C. # Commencement

May 30, 1981

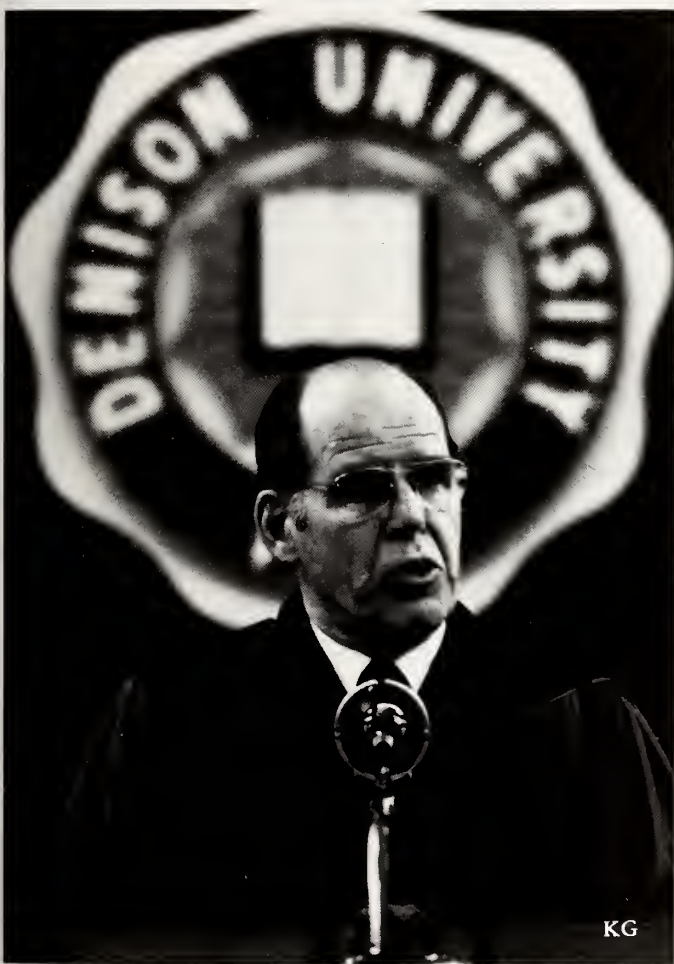

KG

Dr. William Osborne plays the Processional as the Marshal, Dr. John Brown, leads the Seniors to their seats. Dr. Donald Schilling, Chairperson of the Faculty, presented the Recognition of Retiring Faculty: Dr. Charles E. Graham and Dr. Dwight R. Spessard. President Robert C. Good and Mr. John E.F. Wood spoke, the latter giving the Commencement Address.

Before the ceremony, Seniors pass the time any way they can, until the time comes to march into Livingston Gymnasium.

Emotions Run the Gamut . . .

. . . as M.L. Schwab talks, laughs and cries with Scott Palmer and Susan Harris before the soon-to-be-graduates line up. Many Seniors went through the same emotions some time during the day.

Bottom Row: Culeen Driscoll, Sue Ryder, Lisa Currie, Dan Gibbons

During the course of the year many people and offices have supported The Adytum. This is a special thanks to those people and offices:

The Seniors who donated pictures

Kate Moore, for the cover and special artwork

Mrs. Flo Hoffman and the Archives

Public Affairs-News Services for photos

Cory Easter, for various photos

Kevin Gilbert (and Lisa Briganti) for fabulous Commencement photos

Mrs. Gwen Williams and the Controller's Office.

All the ladies in the Cashier's Office.

Everyone at the Slayter Information Desk and the Bookstore.

The following people were members of the Adytum staff, but missed the picture:

Kate Moore (artwork and Fine Arts)

Beth Draper (Organizations)

Rob McGregor (photography)

Cindy Macklin (photography)

Betsy Hendrickson (photography)

Mary Jeanne Moscarino (dorms)

Many thanks to those who helped in many and various ways:

Mark McLoney, Debbie Griley, Kathy Mullane, Leslie Williams, Leslie Quinn, Natalie Campbell, Janet Clark, Rebecca Knight, Wendy Silliphant, Kristi Anderson.
